To Democratic Editors and Central their familles.

We would call the attention of all the Demo cratic editors of Ohio, and of all the county Central Committees, to the Democratic State Ticket as it appears in the STATESMAN. It is very important that there be no mistake in printing the Ticket anywhere in the State. Let the names of all the candidates be printed in full, and spelled correctly, as they are found at the votes shall all be cast, and not a single one be lost on account of errors in Ticket-printing. See to this.

Meeting at Somerford, Madison County.

There will be an immense meeting at Somerford, Madison county, a few miles north of London, on Saturday afternoon, September 20th, which will be addressed by the Hon. A. G. THURMAN and the Hon. SAMUEL S. Cox. It will be a meeting for Midison county, but everybody in all the adjacent counties is levited to

The Democracy of the Eleventh Congressional District of Illinois have nominated the powders. Hon. WILLIAM A. RICHARDSON for re-election. He is one of the ablest, purest and best mem bers of the minority of the present Congress.

THE Cinciunati Commercial opposes Mr. PenDieron for Congress! Nobody expected it to support him. It has always hitherto labored remnants of the regiment formed into three

The Rebei Generals.

The General officers of the rebel army are of full Generals. Of the last named grade there are and can be by law but five, and they stand at present as follows: General S. Cooper, Adjutant-General; and Generals Joseph E Johnston, Robert E. Lee, P. T Beauregard, and Braxton Bragg.

Curiously enough, the head of this list, Ad jutant General Cooper, is a Massachusetts man. General Johnston is reported as having been oramind the officers and soldiers of the army that we tare engaged in supporting the Constitution and laws of the United States, and in supported in the positions, but the is not a contest against their authority; that we are not engaged in a war of rapine, revenge or subjugation; that this is not a contest against armed forces; that it is a struggle curried on within the United States, and should be conducted by us upon the highest principles known to Christian civilisation. mand of the Department of South Carolina and Georgia. General Bragg is, or was recently in Tennessee.

The Major-Generals of the Confederate arms are said to be numerous, and T. J. (Stonewall) Jackson, who holds this rank, stands at som distance from the head of the list. Both Longstreet and A P. Hill are his seniors in rank.

MISCELLANEOUS NEWS.

THE Richmond Enquirer, of the 13th inst. contains a list for a winter outfit for a soldier, with its price, and calls on the Confederate Government for the clothing, or the money to purchase it with:

One cap, $5; one jacket, $25; one pair pants, $38; one pair shoes, $18; two pairs woolen socks, $2 50; two woolen shirts, $10; two pairs drawers, $8. Total, $90 50.

THE Richmond Whig, of the 13th inst., says: by the Treasury Department, that the expendi-tures by the Confederate Government, from its commencement to the 1st of August, amount to $347,272,958 85.

THE Secretary of War has authorized the raising and equipping of a mounted rifle regiment in Minnesots, to be used for active operations against the marauding bands of Indians, and preserving peace along the frontier.

CONTRABANDS have been pouring into Washington from the invaded region of Maryland ever since the invasion began, quite as freely as they formerly did from Virginia. The Govecoment treats them precisely like contrabands from the seceded States, furnishing them rations, lodging and clothing.

Every Plane Trigonometry and Surveying. In its several divisions, the author very properly followed the simple and natural classification of the subjects treated. The arrangement adopted enabled him to set down as simple corollaries many propositions which are usually demonstrated separately.

The work has another important improvement on the text-books that we used in our College days: The definitions are distributed between the various sections, instead of being crowded together at the beginning. It also contains practical illustrations and exercises, and some examples are given of the application of Algebra to Geometry.

We take great pleasure in recommending Prof. Evans's School Geometry as a work of real and recognized merit. The need of just such an improved text-book has long been felt: and we are glad that the efficient Professor of Mathematics in Marietta College assumed the responsibility of supplying that need

> The Democracy Aroused. The Democracy of the country is movingrousing to the importance of the great crisis now upon us. In Maine, Ohio, Indiana, Wis-consin, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Dela-ware, the Democrate have already spoken through their respective State Conventions, in tones that cannot be mistaken, and other States will soon follow in the same strain. In every loyal State they speak the same sentiment of devotion to the Constitution and of determination to conquer all its enemies wherever found. They are sworn by the glorious history of their party, which is identical with the history and prosperity of the country—the whiteman's Eden, till the serpent of abolition > entered it-by the memories of the past and their hopes of the future-by their reverence for their ancestors and concern for their own posterity-by their pride as Americans, and their self-respect as men-by their love of truth and their hatred of treason in all its forms -- by their love of liberty and scorn of op-pression -- that this country shall be saved ---that the Constitution shall be protected and preserved from the base and cowardly attacks of the Northern Abolitionists, as well as from the armed attacks of the Southern Secession

Let our people take courage. The old fash-ioned constitutional Democracy is aroused, and the doom of Abolitionism and disunionism is written. There is hope ahead. Let us work OF THE UNION of these States; it is all that to put patriotic men in office, and all may yet be well. Let us do this, and then, and not till then, can we hope for a preserved Constitution and a restored Union Go to work, then, friends throughout the North, and let the result of the elections of FIFTY TWO rebel prisoners, captured in the Cotober and November proclaim to the world Kanawha region, arrived here on the evening of that the American people have determined that the 17th inst, and were taken to Camp Chase their country, their liberties, and their children's heritage of constitutional privileges shall not be destroyed.

So far, the determination and earnestness manifested by the loyal Democracy are most gratifying. The old lion of Democracy is aroused, as when Jefferson was elected President of the property of the prope sion into Maryland to get something to eat, and dent, and the alien and sedition laws indignantly repudiated by the American people Those condemned laws are again revived, not as laws, but in the form of rescripts and despotic edicts, and the people are again aroused, as of old, and whoever lives to see and hear their verdict this land are stated to have amounted on the second fall, will learn that tyranny—New England day (Wednesday) to three thousand five huntreason against the rights of white men—is as dred dollars. heartily scorned and as indignantly spurned as it was when the American people rose up in heir majesty and put down grasping, centraliz ing Federalism, and elevated the great champion and founder of the true American Democ-racy to the Presidency. Proceedings of the Congressional Convention, Held at Foledo, Sept

In pursuance of a call of the Democratic Central Committee of the Tenth Congressional District the Democracy met by delegates in the city of Toledo, on the 10th inst. to nominate a candidate for Congress, and to transact other business of the district.

Early in the day, it was apparent that the Convention was likely to be disturbed by Abo-litionists who sought a place in the Convention as delegates, on the hypothesis that "they had once been Democrats," and had done battle for the party, in the days of other years; but who have not acted with the party for two years, last past; having been alarmed, we suppose, as some of our office seekers in other localities, on the organization of the fusion party, lest that element under the name of Union party would take to themselves the "loaves and fishes;" they struck hands with them, that they might get a share thereof, and are still operating with that party, as the indorsers of Mr. M. R. Waite, one of the Abolition candidates, in this district for Congress. But the Democracy, ever on the lookout for the preservation of their purity and honor-foreseeing the effort that was about to be made by those men to prevent, if possible, the nomination of a Democratic candidate; and thereby tacitly indorse Mr Walte and his nopolicy policy, quietly withdrew from White's Hall, where the Convention was to have trans-

Mr. Hootman, on taking the chair, made one of our old fashioned, patriotic Democratic speeches, which was received by the Convention with prolonged applause. After which the following resolution was read by the chairman, and unanimously adopted by the Convention.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

The raids of the rebel guerrilla A. G. Jenkins in Western Virginia, with his eight hundred bushwhackers, sum up pretty large. He defeated the Union force at Buckhausen on the 30th ult., entered the town, destroyed large quantities of Government stores, broke up five thousand stand of arms, and carried off a number of horses and Enfield riffes, besides allowing his men to take what they wanted from the private stores in the village. He then proceeded to Weston, where he destroyed all the Government supplies. At Glenville, the same operations were gone through with. The town of Spencer next surrendered to Jenkins, where he wood, where like scenes were enacted, and where he captured Major B. H. Hill, a mustering officer, having in his possession five thousand dollars Government money. The rebels kept the money and told Hill lo leave.—New York Herald.

Under this heading the New York World has the following:

From the time that Gen. McClellan was called to Washington, in July 1861, until he was removed from the post of General-in-Chief, our forces were almost uniformly successful. After that, and so long as his plans were inter-fered with by certain officials—we do not say whom-we met with numerous reverees. When his command was reduced to less than a hundred men our army in Virginia was most shame-fully routed. WITH QUESTIONS

By Lt.-Col. H. B. WILSON, 44th OHIO INFANTRY.

THIS WORK IS THE AUTHORIZED Infantry Tactics for the United States Army—ambracing the system of instruction in the form of questions and answers in the School, the Company and Battalion Drill, so highly commended by the Inspector-General of the U. S. Army, and to which our best regiments are todebted for their thorough knowledge of every movement in the drill and battle-fleid, by which the lives of thousands of our men have been saved.

Resolved, by the General Assembly of the State of Ohlo, That the United States Infantry Tactics, for the instruction, exercise and manouvres of the United States Infantry of the Line, Light Infantry and Billemen, prepared under the direction of the War Department, and authorized and adopted by the Secretary of War, May I, 1861, with the system of Questions appended to the text, by Lieut.-Colonel H. B. Wilson, be and the same is hereby suthorized and adopted for the instruction of the military of the State of Ohlo. April 10th, 1862.

James B. Bubbell.

JAMES MONRON, Pres't pro tem Senate.

THRILLING INCIDENTS OF THE

ILLUSTRATED.

THE ORITICS AND THE PUBLIC ARE RIGHT in predicting that this will surpass, in graphic narrative, exciting interest, and extensive popularity, all other histories of the war for the Union. Its theme will be the heroic daring, patient suffering, and hair-breadth escapes of our soldiers and sallors, and its incidents will form a theme of conversation at innumerable fresides for years to come. It will contain, in addition to its stirring details, the philosophical Analysis of the Gauses of the War, by John Lovinco Morter, LL.D., author of "The Rise of the Dutch Republic," etc., the dates of all the important events from the John Brown raid, and an accurate and revised account of the principal battles, with engravings.

By Dr. J. LEANDER BISHOP. 2 vols. 8vo.

Every business man and clerk should have these books. They will pay the buyer a hundred fold. Every parent should get them for their sons.
